INTRODUCTION

Toothpaste is an oral care product that almost everybody uses throughout the world. paste or gel dentifrice used with a toothbrush to clean and maintain the aesthetics and health of teeth. Toothpaste is used to promote oral hygiene. It is an abrasive that aids in removing dental plaque and food from the teeth, assists in suppressing halitosis, and delivers active ingredients (most commonly fluoride) to help prevent tooth decay (dental caries) and gum disease (gingivitis). Salt and sodium bicarbonate (baking soda) are among materials that can be substituted for commercial toothpaste. Large amounts of swallowed toothpaste can be toxic. Nowadays, the usage of toothpaste especially in world increasing rapidly. This might sound good but another harm is that according to the FDA and its website, Triclosan was banned from these products because it failed to prove its effectiveness and its safety regarding its use in care products. According to the FDA website there have been animal studies done that concluded TCS caused a decrease in thyroid hormones and that it was also an endocrine disruptor
