10. Your personal data is not subject to automated decision making, including profiling.

§ 4 Cookies mechanism, IP address

1. The Website uses small files called cookies. PAJAN saves them via the Website on the computer of the person visiting the Website, if the web browser allows it. A cookie usually contains the name of the domain from which it comes, its "expiration time" and an individual, randomly chosen number identifying the file.

2. Cookies are used to:

- a) optimizing the use of the Website
- b) convenience of using the Website
- c) adapting the content of the pages to users' preferences
- d) to collect anonymous statistics

Cookies are most often used when using website mechanisms such as visit counters, polls, shopping through the site, pages requiring login, displaying ads, monitoring visitor activity, and others.

Cookies used on the site <http://e-nnovate.eu> are not used to identify users' identities.

Cookies do not change the configuration of the User's computer, tablet, or smartphone.

3. PAJAN uses two types of cookies:

a) Session cookies: after the browser session ends or the computer is turned off, the saved information is deleted from the device's memory. The mechanism of session cookies does not allow downloading any personal data or any confidential information from Users' computers;

b) Persistent cookies: they are stored on the User's hard disk and remain there until they are deleted. The mechanism of persistent cookies sent by the Website allows you to store data only with your consent (expressed e.g. when choosing the "remember me" option when logging in). In no other case will these files be saved permanently.

4. The cookie mechanism is safe for Website Users' computers. In particular, users of viruses or other unwanted software or malware cannot enter networks via this path. Nevertheless, in their browsers, Users have the option of limiting or disabling cookies' access to computers. If you use this option, the use of the Website will be possible in addition to functions that, by their nature, require cookies.

5. Internet browsers allow cookies by default in the settings. You have the option of changing these settings, i.e. turning the cookies to be blocked in whole or in part, or the browser to inform us if cookies are saved on your device. Detailed information on blocking cookies can be found on the Website or in the help of the browser creator of the browser you are using. However, it should be remembered that if you decide to block cookies, it may negatively affect or prevent the functioning of specific functions or areas of the Website.

6. PAJAN may collect your IP addresses. The IP address is the number assigned to the computer of the person visiting the Website by the internet service provider. The IP number allows access to the Internet. In most cases, it is assigned to the computer dynamically, i.e., it changes every time you connect to the Internet and is therefore commonly treated as non-personal identifying information. The IP address is used by PAJAN when diagnosing technical problems with the server, creating statistical analyzes (e.g. determining from which regions we record the most visits), as information useful in administering and improving the Website, as well as for security purposes and possible identification of server-borne, undesirable automatic programs for browsing the Website content.

7. The Website contains links and references to other websites. PAJAN is not responsible for the privacy policies applicable to them. For this reason, we encourage you to read the privacy policy adopted after that navigating through the Website to a website managed by another administrator.

§ 5 Access to data

1. Only authorized PAJAN employees have direct access to personal data collected by the Website.

2. Your data may also be made available to entities authorized to receive them under applicable law, in particular the competent judicial authorities and bodies indicated in the point: "How do we use the collected data?"

§ 6 Security

1. PAJAN applies safeguards to ensure data protection against loss, misuse, and modification. PAJAN undertakes to protect all your data in accordance with the standards of security protection and confidentiality.

2. Personal data in PAJAN are protected in accordance with the provisions of the GDPR and the Act of May 10, 2018, on the protection of personal data (Journal of Laws of 2018, item 1000) in a manner preventing access by third parties.

§ 7 Changes to the Privacy Policy

1. PAJAN reserves the right to amend the Privacy Policy. On the day of making the changes, we update the date of the last amendment given below.

2. Any additional questions related to the Privacy Policy should be directed to: <http://e-nnovate.eu/>. Date of last modification: 25.05.2018 Policy regarding the use of cookies. This Cookies Policy applies to the website <http://e-nnovate.eu>. If you use the website <http://e-nnovate.eu>, you agree to the use of cookies in accordance with this policy. If you do not agree to the use of cookies, you can decide on this by changing the settings of your web browser or opt-out of using the site <http://e-nnovate.eu>. What are Cookies ("Cookies")? Cookies are text information sent by a web server and saved and stored on the User's computer, tablet, or smartphone. Cookies usually contain information about the page that generated them, a unique number, and storage time. By default, only the server that created the cookie can read it.
